“ I will never forget the day Dottie and Judy came to pick me up on my first visit. The warmth, love, the shared interest in books, arts and more although living thousands of miles away was astonishing. She and Judy also made sure I met as many family members as possible every time I visited. That was so important to me! Dottie was my last connection to a family that was decimated in the holocaust and she was able to tell me some stories. I was glad I could spend time with Dottie last August and the fun of that time spent together feels my heart at this time.
