“ What a privilege and honor it was for all of us to have Lee in our lives. Lee was a radiant treasure. Adorable, emotionally perceptive, witty, graceful, beautiful, intellectually deep despite her affection for fashion, principled, disciplined, kind, gifted with the good sense and good manners to show interest in others, an absolute joy to be around. She was vibrant, strong, resilient, elegant, a dignified lady, loyal to family and friends, influential in her high expectations of those she loved. Fiercely proud of family without being a braggart, cautious yet at one time a horse rider, smart as a whip yet able to make those around her feel they were the geniuses. Lee, you were extraordinary, one in several million. My eternal adoration as you dance into the ever after.

“ Lee was such a sweet loving woman. Her memory will always be a blessing to both me and Mitzvah. Like you said, “No matter how much time you have, it is never enough.” I am so sorry.
