“ Margo and I were best friends from jr high through our early adult years when I moved to Chicago. We shared so much together. She'll be greatly missed. By the way, I know why she didn't cook. Enjoy your wonderful memories of her. Diane Malmon Schwarzbach

“ Margo Winter, always a smile, always fun, always minimizing any troubles, always ready to help a friend, always relating proud stories of her children and grandchildren, always, always...
Margo and Jack were our first married friends when Jordy and I returned to Milwaukee. We had good times together and they gave the best parties. We all know Margo's remarkable talents. But for me was the recognition of what good parents Jack and Margo were. They raised an amazing and growing family. At dinner together just last month she related how her family worried about her ( needlessly) and her pride in how everyone was doing. I'll miss you Margo!

“ Margo was a special lady and friend. We are so very saddened by her sudden passing. I have so many fond memories of Margo....playing golf, having lunch and chatting about homes and design. Simply running into her at Sendik's was an uplifting experience! But, my very favorite memory of Margo will always be her presence at our family Christmas parties over the last few years. My parents, my children, brothers, sister-in-laws, nieces and nephews instantly loved Margo ~ she had that unique effect on everyone she met, my family included. On behalf of all twenty-five of us ~ we will miss her laughter, her conversation, and her smile next month.

She loved her family. We are so sorry for your loss.

*Sincerely,

“ Devastated my oldest friend gone and without a goodbye. Margo was an amazing woman ,In so many ways. She was smart , she was strong, she was the most amazing mother and grandmother and regaled me in many late night conversations of all their comings and going's. She had so many interests ....art, sports, theatre , books. We never ran out of conversation. Everyone knew Margo and loved her vivacious personality. I know I'm just one of many, many people who will miss her and who was proud to be a friend .. I guess she and I are not going to end up like Thelma and Louise as we had planned. RIP Margo
