

Polly Daeger

January 29, 1926 - November 19, 2015

Daeger, Polly

(nee Rosenberg) passed away on November 19, 2015 in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. She was preceded in death by her husband, Giles, and will be lovingly remembered by her children Randy (the late Dick Victor) Goodman, Daniel (Monique Chacon) Goodman, and Joshua (Catherine Meyler) Goodman, her grandchildren Lisa (David) Small, Maia (Daniel Young) Goodman Young, Sarah (Michael Murphy) Victor, Aaron Goodman, Jake Victor, Arianna Goodman, Sam Goodman, and Isaac Goodman and her great grandchildren Morgan, Jack, Hannah and Nick Small.

Polly loved art, travel, her family, and entertaining friends. She explored many forms of art starting with painting and weaving and then jewelry, which she continued to produce until the last years of her life. Her map of the world had stick pins marking her travels to a multitude of countries and the photos on the walls documented those visits with family and friends. She was generous in her support of local art events and community groups. She enjoyed wearing her almost exclusively black wardrobe, donning hats (particularly her signature sequined caps) and sharing friends' food.

At Polly's request, no service will be held and a private burial will be held at a later date.

“ *Dear family and friends,
I am devastated to learn of Polly's passing. I have known Polly for over 20 years. She was a delightful, warm and generous person--not to mention one of the most talented artists I have ever known. I will think of Polly with every beautiful piece of jewelry I have from her. Her spirit will live on in our memories. My thoughts and prayers are with you during this heartbreaking time.
With deepest condolences,
Karen Coy-Romano*
