“ Please accept my family's sincere condolences on the loss of your dear loved one Mr. Tash. May you find comfort in fond memories of him, and peace in God's assured promise to awaken those asleep in death to perfect health and conditions under his new Earthly government.

“ I just read Bob Tash's obituary. Bobby was the son of Eli Tash who was the first person to hire me (in 1969) in my capacity as a special educator. Mr. Tash recognized that his son, and others with developmental differences needed social outlets, and hired me to figure out how to do that. Over the years, there were dances, camping trips, art lessons, and sing-a-Long's. My heart full thank you to the Tash family, and to Bobby who taught me more than any university course (and also taught me that tying shoe laces was not really that important)
