“ I recall the time when my father, Myron Greenberg, and I and Sol, his cousin, were together in 1999 when my daughter, Temira Puchinsky, was about 3 months old. Sol had come over to see the baby and later on that day Maurice Greenberg, Myron's brother, also came over. It was a most wonderful day and that was the last time when my father had the great opportunity to share in such a momentous occasion. Sol also was helpful in showing me some apartments when I was a student at University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee. And, of course, we were all together many times when we were quite young on Pesachs and Rosh Hashanas. Sol had the finest, warmest, and caring personality ever. I am so grateful he lived for 99 years!
