“ *Al used to have lunch with Stan at maxfields at the round table. Not only did he tell me how nice he was but he couldn't get over the stories about World War Two! All about living in the woods and fighting for their lives against the Germans! Every week there was another story! We were both in auw living safely as young children here! When I met Stan I realized Al hit the nail on the head! We sincerely send our sympathies to his wife and family.
